[redacted] was advised that he was being interviewed specifically concerning his knowledge of TOWER, [redacted] and the events which supposedly took place in August of 1987, December 12, 1987, and May 16, 1988.

[redacted] believes that he first met [redacted] and [redacted] while he was [redacted] in the summer of 1987, possibly August. They were sitting at the bar one evening. He remembered [redacted] and [redacted] in particular because they got into a discussion about the upcoming Presidential elections. [redacted] later sent [redacted] a copy of an article from a "liberal publication" the name of which he could not recall. [redacted] believes [redacted] and [redacted] were staying at the JEFFERSON HOTEL on business for a convention.

[redacted] stated that he, [redacted] and [redacted] were practically the only persons in the lounge area to include the dining room. He stated that August is the worst time businesswise for the JEFFERSON, in that often he would not have one customer during his shift.

[redacted] stated that he could not recall any loud parties or SENATOR TOWER being in the lounge area that evening. He stated that TOWER could have been there, but he does not recall seeing him there. He does not recall [redacted] or [redacted] making any mention of TOWER in any respect to him over the approximate four hours that [redacted] and [redacted] sat at the bar. [redacted] added that he does not discuss any of the guests with any of the other guests.

[redacted] was advised of the identity of the interviewing Agent, and furnished the following additional information regarding JOHN GOODWIN TOWER:

[redacted] said he could recall attending the San Simeon Restaurant and Nightclub in Dallas, Texas with JOHN TOWER on or around July 8, 1988.

[redacted] said that the dinner party was planned by himself and [redacted] one of [redacted] the San Simeon. The primary reason the party was held was to socialize with [redacted] who was in town and represented the [redacted] a businessman currently working in the Washington, D.C. area, [redacted] who currently works for the [redacted] in Washington, D.C., [redacted] with the [redacted] and [redacted] made up the dinner party.

[redacted] described the San Simeon as an "upper class" restaurant that was adjoined by a "nightclub or disco" type establishment that was part of the San Simeon.

[redacted] said that the dinner party began eating without JOHN TOWER at about 9:00 p.m. [redacted] said that TOWER arrived late around 9:30 p.m. and seated himself for a light meal or salad. [redacted] said that TOWER arrived "stone cold sober" and he had obviously been working prior to joining them. [redacted] said he recalls one regular size bottle of Chablis or Chardoney being ordered with the meal. He believes TOWER had one glass of wine with his meal. [redacted] said the others had before-dinner cocktails.

[redacted] said that at approximately 10:00 p.m., the dinner party decided to move to the nightclub. [redacted] does not recall seeing TOWER drinking anything later on.

[redacted] said that his wife and JOHN TOWER were friends of 12 years and were enjoying the opportunity to talk and renew acquaintances. He said he could not recall seeing anything

[redacted] was advised of the identity of the interviewing Agent and provided the following information regarding JOHN GOODWIN TOWER:

[redacted] said she had been associated with the Republican Party in Texas, and had known TOWER for about a year. She said Mr. TOWER would probably not know her by name but may recall that she was associated with the Texas Republican Party.

[redacted] said that she was also a member of the League of Latin American Citizens (LULAC) and last summer JOHN TOWER was asked to speak at a Breakfast before the group. [redacted] said that at approximately the same time, [redacted] was informally organizing a dinner party at the San Simeon, primarily for [redacted] who was in Dallas. [redacted] said that she believes TOWER was invited to attend if he had time. She described it as a pleasant surprise when TOWER showed up for their dinner party at San Simeon's.

[redacted] said that [redacted] his [redacted] [redacted] were at the dinner party which started about 9:00 p.m.

[redacted] said she recalled TOWER coming in during the middle of dinner and seated himself with the others. [redacted] said that to her recollection, TOWER was asked to order wine for the table. [redacted] said he may have ordered both red and white wine because the party was having different meals. [redacted] said she was sure that TOWER had only one and not more than two ordinary glasses of wine.

[redacted] said that about 10:00 p.m., the suggestion was made, probably by [redacted] who is a [redacted] San Simeon's, to move to the nightclub area of San Simeon's.

[redacted] said that during the dinner, and especially during the initial period of time in the nightclub, [redacted] was talking in detail to her about her personal problems. [redacted] said she observed [redacted] monopolize JOHN TOWER's

She recalled that she had a low-cut evening gown that was "not vulgar but did show cleavage." _____ said it was obvious to her that _____ was upset and that TOWER was listening as a concerned friend. _____ said she observed the two of them dancing for a short period of time. She also recalled that while returning from the dance floor, _____ stumbled on a step. She said she recalled seeing another person stumble on the same step and could not recall anything unusual or notable happening the rest of the night.

_____ said she did not recall seeing TOWER drinking at all after dinner. _____ said TOWER was quiet, well-behaved and sober throughout the evening. She did not believe that TOWER was bringing any attention to himself by his behavior.

_____ advised their party left before midnight. She recalls that TOWER left by himself at about the same time.

_____ does not know TOWER as well as most of the other people that were part of the group. She said that what she did know about him was favorable and she had no reason to believe any of the stories about his womanizing or excessive drinking. _____ said others who know him well have never relayed any negative stories about him. _____ said TOWER gets along well with people and they were delighted to get him to speak at the breakfast for their group (LULAC). [redacted] Washington, D.C., (telephone number [redacted] was advised of the identity of the interviewing Agent and of the fact that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is conducting a background investigation concerning former Senator JOHN TOWER.

[redacted] advised that he does recall having attended a dinner held at a restaurant (name not recalled) in Dallas, Texas during July, 1988. [redacted] explained that he had been invited to this dinner but only knew two of the individuals in attendance, [redacted] and [redacted]. He advised that he did not know [redacted] or any of the other individuals in attendance. He further advised that, although he has seen former Senator JOHN TOWER at many political and professional events over the years, this was his first opportunity to meet TOWER on a social or casual basis. As a result of this fact and of the fact that [redacted] was seated at the end of the table opposite where TOWER was seated, he did not take particular notice of TOWER's actions or behavior that evening. He observed, however, that TOWER was cordial and pleasant to those who sat near him and he never observed TOWER to behave in any manner other than that of a gentleman.

[redacted] recalled that the group originally met in the restaurant in question and had dinner for several hours.
Then, the group moved next door to the nightclub area where they stayed for about one hour. During both the dinner and the nightclub portion of the evening, [redacted] never saw any indication that TOWER was inebriated or was under the influence of alcohol whatsoever. Although he has a recollection of TOWER having a glass in his hand throughout the evening, [redacted] does not even know whether TOWER was drinking alcoholic beverages or nonalcoholic beverages. He can state with great confidence that the appointee was very coherent and rational in his conversations whether at the dinner table or at the nightclub.

[redacted] was advised that an allegation had been made concerning TOWER's behaving in an inappropriate manner with a female member of that dinner party. [redacted] stated that he does not recall any such behavior on the appointee's part toward anyone male or female that evening. Although [REDACTED] only knew [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] Senator TOWER did know some of the other members of the group, including [REDACTED] with whom TOWER had conversations throughout the evening, as he did with many people in the group. [REDACTED] did not recall seeing TOWER doing any dancing with anyone, and stated that he does not recall TOWER acting inappropriate at any time throughout the evening. In fact, [REDACTED] could not think of any activities which took place that evening which could have been misinterpreted by someone not knowing the individuals in this party.

In response to a direct question, [REDACTED] advised that, although he did not see [REDACTED] trip, he did hear the fact that she tripped immediately after it happened. He recalled that there was a step or two not far away from the area of the restaurant where the group had gathered, possibly near the bathroom. He recalls hearing immediately after the incident that [REDACTED] had tripped. He did not ever hear that TOWER had anything whatsoever to do with [REDACTED] tripping. He is certain if TOWER had been a part of this incident or had been the cause of it, he would have heard that fact also. He did not hear any indication that TOWER is responsible for her having tripped, which leads him to believe that TOWER had absolutely no part in [REDACTED] tripping.

[REDACTED] summarized his comments by stating that he has never seen TOWER drinking any alcoholic beverages prior to this particular evening, and never saw him affected by alcohol consumption even on that evening. Based upon his knowledge of TOWER and his observations of him including that particular evening, [REDACTED] would absolutely recommend him for a position of Secretary of Defense.

[redacted] Washington, D.C., (telephone number [redacted]) was advised of the identity of the interviewing agent and of the fact that the Federal Bureau of Investigation is currently conducting a background investigation of former Senator JOHN G. TOWER. [redacted] was asked to provide details concerning a social event which took place during July of 1988 at the San Simeon Restaurant and Night Club, Dallas, Texas, as well as details of TOWER's behavior and conduct that evening.

[redacted] advised that she wanted to develop a formal group of Republican Hispanics in Dallas, Texas for the purposes of the 1988 Campaign. In an effort to do so, she called together a number of former associates of hers from the Dallas, Texas area. In an effort to assist this group in developing a proper political strategy, she also invited JOHN TOWER to this meeting as well as [redacted] a [redacted] from Washington, D.C. One of the individuals invited to this gathering was [redacted] who [redacted] has known for many years. Although this was a gathering of Hispanic individuals to discuss Hispanic politics, [redacted] also invited [redacted] to join this gathering. [redacted] and [redacted] arrived at the restaurant where the meal was being served later than most other individuals in the group. As a result, they did not have anything to eat before they started drinking alcohol. [redacted] stated that [redacted] had been having marital difficulties and had been separated at the time of this social gathering. However, that evening, they both appeared quite happy and were apparently celebrating something. Soon after their arrival at the dinner, the [redacted] began buying rounds of drinks and offering toasts. It was not until later that [redacted] learned that [redacted] had agreed on that evening to [redacted] [redacted] had agreed to take [redacted] repeated, however, that this fact was not known to those attending the dinner at that time.

As a result of [REDACTED] having had several drinks on an empty stomach, the alcohol appeared to have affected her that evening. This was not the case with the others attending this social function, since they had been at the restaurant for a period of time prior to the [REDACTED] arriving and had had something to eat prior to the rounds of drinks purchased by the [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] stated that, when she first called TOWER and asked him to attend this gathering and to give advice to the group on political strategy, he was pleased to do so but immediately asked whether [REDACTED] would be attending. [REDACTED] advised that TOWER has known [REDACTED] since approximately 1972 and was very close to [REDACTED] as well as to [REDACTED]. TOWER had been well aware of the [REDACTED] from each other and stated during that initial phone call that he would do everything he could to try to convince [REDACTED] to take [REDACTED] and to try to convince the [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] repeated that these comments by TOWER were made during her initial telephonic attempt to invite TOWER to this social gathering. [REDACTED] explained that TOWER feels very strongly about the [REDACTED] and "they were like kids to the Senator". Not only did TOWER express his wish to speak to [REDACTED] about getting [REDACTED] but TOWER also indicated during this telephone conversation that he had already spoken to [REDACTED] on occasion concerning the need for her to [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] advised that TOWER did not arrive at this social gathering until after dinner had been served. She estimated that the group had been together for about one and one half hours before TOWER's arrival and that TOWER stayed with the group for about two hours before leaving. She definitely recalled that he left alone and not in the company of anyone.

[REDACTED] advised that during the evening, TOWER spent a great deal of time with [REDACTED]. As a result of the [REDACTED] was having what [REDACTED] described as a mid-life crisis. She did not feel that [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] During that evening, TOWER was attempting to comfort and console [REDACTED] as well as attempting to get her to [REDACTED] with him.

[REDACTED] described the area of the restaurant where the group held its meeting as an L-shaped corner. The corner had in it a number of small tables which seated only a few people each and one couch in the corner. Although the individuals in the group moved about the area from time to time during the evening, she does recall TOWER having spent time with [REDACTED] sitting on this particular couch. However, there were others sitting on the couch with these two also. [REDACTED] further recalls that, while sitting on this couch, TOWER had his arm resting on the back of the couch while talking to [REDACTED] who sat next to him. As a result, his arm on the back of the couch was also in the area of [REDACTED] back. [REDACTED] described [REDACTED] as very emotional that evening and listening very intently to TOWER. She recalled TOWER giving [REDACTED] advise, giving her support, and giving her comfort. In the process of comforting her and advising her to [REDACTED] TOWER did occasionally pat [REDACTED] on the back and did occasionally put his hand on her leg in a gesture of support or encouragement. Although [REDACTED] was involved in political discussions throughout the evening, she believes she saw TOWER dancing with [REDACTED] on at least one occasion. [REDACTED] stated that it is entirely possible that the close, intimate and personal conversations which occurred that evening between TOWER and [REDACTED] might have been misunderstood by someone who did not know the relationship between TOWER and [REDACTED] and by someone who did not realize that [REDACTED] was also in attendance at that meeting. [REDACTED] is certain TOWER had absolutely no wrong or improper intentions in his conversations with or touching of [REDACTED] holds this opinion of TOWER for several reasons, including the fact that TOWER has known both of the [REDACTED] for many years and is very fond of both of them as well as TOWER's stated intention during the initial telephone invitation to him, his intention to speak to [REDACTED] and to try to get her to [REDACTED] [REDACTED] repeated that she does not believe any of TOWER's intentions or activities that evening were anything other than proper and well-motivated.

[REDACTED] stated that she does not recall how much alcohol TOWER consumed during the two hours he was with this group. She explained that she, herself, was involved in political discussions throughout the evening and was not keeping track of who was drinking how much. In addition, she noted that someone was always ordering something to drink, sometimes alcoholic beverages and sometimes non-alcoholic beverages. She did not keep any track of who was drinking alcohol and who was not. She stated, however, that she has never seen JOHN TOWER drunk and that certainly includes the particular evening in question. She considered him to be totally in control of his faculties that evening. She recalls that he has always spoken intelligently after having consumed alcohol, and he certainly spoke intelligently throughout that particular evening.

[REDACTED] stated that she never did see [REDACTED] fall or trip while in the restaurant. However, she did hear from others in the party that [REDACTED] had fallen, possibly while walking to or from the bathroom. [REDACTED] does recall that the carpet in the restaurant was a dark blue or dark purple, and the restaurant itself was very dark and poorly lit. In addition, there were several stairs on the route to and from the bathroom, and [REDACTED] recalls almost having tripped on these stairs herself. She repeated, however, that she did not ever see [REDACTED] fall. She advised, in response to a direct question from the interviewing agent, that she never did hear any indication that JOHN TOWER was anywhere near [REDACTED] when [REDACTED] is said to have fallen on the stairs.

[REDACTED] advised that she is quite upset at the number of false allegations which have been made about JOHN TOWER. She feels that many of these false allegations are from individuals who are motivated by the fact that TOWER is so supportive of minorities and by the belief that TOWER, if he were to be made Secretary of Defense, would actively promote minorities within the Defense Department. [REDACTED] advised that she would certainly recommend TOWER for the position of Secretary of Defense.

Dear Senators:

The assault on the character of John Tower has been shocking to me. I have been associated with John politically and socially since 1958 or 1959 and have always been impressed with his ability, honesty and integrity. On the number of times I have been with him, I have never seen him in any condition which would prevent him from carrying out his obligations. He is a patriotic American who has supported his Country in war and peace in the military and public service.

I hope you will support John Tower and his confirmation to the office of Secretary of Defense.

Sincerely,

RALPH CHANDLER BLACKWELL, Post Office Box 221, Burgess, Virginia 22432, State Route 1311, home telephone number 804/453-3613, date of birth February 13, 1936, Social Security Account Number 256-30-3595, was advised as to the identity of the interviewing Agent and the nature of the interview. BLACKWELL then related the following:

He first met JOHN GOODWIN TOWER sometime in mid-1960 when he and TOWER sat next to one another during an airplane flight. BLACKWELL stated he then saw TOWER on many other occasions, approximately once every three months, usually on a social occasion, but he has not seen TOWER for the last two to three years.

BLACKWELL explained that he retired in 1974 as a UNITED STATES AIR FORCE Colonel after 30 years of service. From 1962 to his retirement, BLACKWELL's duties were in aircraft acquisition which allowed him to work in Washington, D.C., and attend many defense contractor meetings and functions. It was at these type functions that he usually saw TOWER.

BLACKWELL further explained that after his retirement from the AIR FORCE, he held consulting jobs with such entities as the NATIONAL AEROSPACE SERVICES ASSOCIATION, the ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSION, and the SYNTHETIC FUEL CORPORATION. It was his association with SYNTHETIC FUEL CORPORATION which led him to attend the March 1982 function of the Irongate Chapter of the UNITED STATES AIR FORCE ASSOCIATION (USAFA) in New York City, although he stated he usually attends this function annually.

According to BLACKWELL, the Irongate Chapter of the USAFA is a charitable group that has an annual black-tie banquet for which defense contractors and others purchase tables, with the proceeds of the event going to charity. BLACKWELL estimated that 1,000 people attended the banquet which occurred in March 1982. BLACKWELL also explained that it is customary for many defense contractors such as HUGHES AIRCRAFT and LOCKHEED to hold hospitality suites in their hotel rooms. BLACKWELL described these hospitality suites as parties and a place where good friends get reacquainted and have fun, a sort of "gathering of the clan." BLACKWELL stated that it was also the custom to go from one hospitality room to another, talking business and meeting people. He added that there is drinking at these functions and kissing of women. BLACKWELL also added that most of these parties held by the defense contractors were visited by presidents and executives of major corporations who would not allow any type of drunkenness or sexual misconduct.

BLACKWELL stated he saw TOWER drink and kiss females at the HUGHES AIRCRAFT hospitality suite in March 1982, as well as other functions. BLACKWELL stated, however, that at no time did he see any conduct on TOWER's part that he considered "unacceptable to any reasonable person." He described TOWER as a gregarious individual who likes people and likes to have fun, but he cannot say that he has ever seen TOWER visibly intoxicated to such a degree that BLACKWELL would consider it offensive to himself or to the other people he was with. BLACKWELL also stated that he has never seen TOWER take undue liberty with any female, including "french kissing" or long embraces.

When asked why this particular night stands out in his mind, BLACKWELL explained it was probably because the next day, while having an informal breakfast in the HUGHES AIRCRAFT suite, BLACKWELL overheard that TOWER stood on a couch the night before and led the people in singing songs, including "Amazing Grace." BLACKWELL could not recall who told him this, stating that it was not a big deal and was not something that "turned my head." BLACKWELL stated that he did not personally see TOWER lead any singing before he retired to bed that night at approximately 1:30 a.m. or 2:00 a.m.

BLACKWELL described TOWER as a gregarious person who likes to have fun and tell jokes, but is also sober, honorable, honest, and reliable. BLACKWELL has based this characterization on his personal dealings with TOWER, which are normally in a social setting. BLACKWELL stated that TOWER is a "pretty stable fellow." BLACKWELL stated that it is very difficult to describe someone's drinking habits since it means different things to different people. To some, a few drinks means a lot, while for others, it may not be much at all. BLACKWELL stated that, in his estimation, JOHN GOODWIN TOWER does not have a drinking problem.

BLACKWELL also added that TOWER associated with good, upstanding people and had a very good reputation in the community. BLACKWELL stated he knows of no reason to question TOWER's loyalty to the United States Government. BLACKWELL stated he is unable to comment relative to TOWER's financial posture since he did not know him well enough to do so.

BLACKWELL stated he knows of no misrepresentations ever made by TOWER and has never seen any type of disgraceful conduct on his part. In addition, BLACKWELL stated he has never seen any indications of any prejudice on the part of TOWER toward any individual or group based on race, creed, handicap, sex, color, religion, age, or national origin.

BLACKWELL recommends TOWER for a position of trust and confidence with the United States Government and stated his belief that the current controversy surrounding his appointment is due to political fighting between parties.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

FROM: [REDACTED] RLB

SUBJECT: Telecons with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]

At the instruction of [REDACTED] I called [REDACTED] of Phoenix, Arizona, who had written Senator DeConcini regarding [REDACTED] observation of intoxicated behavior by Senator Tower on several recent occasions at the Jefferson Hotel bar in Washington, D.C. (attached).

[REDACTED] is the [REDACTED] a market and public opinion research company which has been in business since 1965. The company also does polling for political campaigns, as well as business consulting. In his letter of transmittal, Senator DeConcini advised Senator Nunn that he had known [REDACTED] for over 15 years. [REDACTED] was described to Senator Nunn by Senator DeConcini as "very reliable." He has no prior business, social or political association with Senator Tower. He said he "is not a teetotaler."

In my conversation with him, [REDACTED] stated that he had written Senator DeConcini after seeing Senator Tower on TV testify that he did not have a drinking problem. [REDACTED] said that that statement "does not fit reality as I know it."

[REDACTED] explained that he does not come to Washington frequently but that on the three occasions during the last two years he has been here he has seen Senator Tower drunk on each occasion.

The first such incident was 25-26 August 1987. [REDACTED] had had dinner at the Jefferson Hotel (where he likes to stay when in town) with a business associate, [REDACTED] also of Phoenix, and then went into the bar for drinks. [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] immediately became aware of loud noise in an adjacent room and asked [REDACTED] about it. [REDACTED] said something to the effect that "that is Senator Tower" and told the men stories about previous occasions Senator Tower had been drunk in the bar.

[REDACTED] did not see Senator Tower, as there was a small wall between the rooms. He described the Tower group's behavior as "raucus, loud and noticeable."

[REDACTED] could not recall the name of [REDACTED] but said he was either a [REDACTED] Anglo" or a "Spanish-speaking" man, since these were [redacted] has seen during his stays at the Jefferson Hotel. [redacted] suggested I call his associate [redacted] to see what he remembered about this incident.

I reached [redacted] at his business in Phoenix [redacted] described himself as the proprietor of his own business, which conducts market research. He has had no previous political, social or business association with Senator Tower.

[redacted] explained that he had traveled to Washington in August, 1987, with [redacted] with regard to a design they had prepared for a research project. They stayed at the hotel for two days. After dinner at the hotel restaurant, they went into the bar and sat at the bar. They heard "a lot of noise going on" nearby and asked [redacted] "What's happening?"

According to [redacted] explained that it was "a famous person," whom he identified as Senator Tower, with others. [redacted] described the activity as "a lot of noise, a lot of carousing, and definitely not a sober group". He said that at one point he went to the bathroom and out of curiosity looked around the wall and saw Senator Tower, whom he described as "very clearly drunk."

[redacted] said [redacted] regularly carried drinks in to the party and "saw no wine glasses." He said he was "99% sure it was hard liquor" being sent in, and he remembers that there were bottles of coke and, he believes, bourbon.

[redacted] described the bartender as "anglo and [redacted] and said he may have [redacted]. He said he was a little over 6' tall, medium-build, in his mid-20's or just over 30.

[redacted] said [redacted] told [redacted] and him stories about several previous occasions when Senator Tower was in the bar "pretty blasted," including, according to [redacted] once with [redacted] was not travelling with [redacted] on the other two occasions [redacted] reports he saw Senator Tower drunk in the bar.

The second incident [redacted] relates occurred, he believes, on December 27, 1987. [redacted] was again staying at the Jefferson Hotel. He went into the bar after dinner and noticed a loud party in the adjacent room. [redacted] said the party consisted of Senator Tower, whom he recognized, and what he believes was a group of visiting Australian businessmen. He said he thinks they were Australians because he does business in Australia and knows Australians. [redacted] said the group was all drunk, that the Australians were "abusive and slurring their words" and that although Tower "wasn't at that level," he had been drinking heavily.

[redacted] explained that although his letter to Senator DeConcini mentioned "this September" as the most recent time he had seen Senator Tower intoxicated, he had since checked his business records and realized his last trip occurred in May 1988. b6 b7C

The third incident occurred on May 16, 1988. [redacted] had gone to dinner with a friend then went to the Jefferson Hotel bar alone. He sat at the bar. Senator Tower, who had been in a back room, came up to the bar with another man. [redacted] said that he and Senators Tower were introduced and "swapped stories", Senator Tower sat at the bar for "the better part of an hour" with his friend, whom [redacted] described as apparently a political friend from the Rio Grande Valley area of Texas. [redacted] believes this to be the case because Senator Tower and the man "swapped distasteful jokes about people and things in the Rio Grande Valley" and "talked about politics" in a congressional district there. [redacted] did not know the name of the man.

[redacted] said Senator Tower was intoxicated. When I asked him why he thought so, [redacted] said it was both because he observed Senator Tower drinking so much and because of Senator Tower's behavior. [redacted] said Senator Tower was "putting it down like a regular sailor." He said Senator Tower, whom he was sitting at the bar with throughout, got "quite loud" and "his stories got stranger and stranger." He said Tower was drinking "steadily" during the time at the bar. He also said Tower acted in a "braggadocio" manner.

[redacted] did not recall what Senator Tower was drinking or whether it was wine or hard liquor. He said it was possible it was wine. He did not observe Senator Tower lose his balance, but described his condition as "deep intoxication."

[redacted] said he is leaving for Australia on business tomorrow (February 23) and will return on March 5. [redacted] said he is leaving tomorrow for San Francisco.

[redacted] Phoenix, Arizona, telephone [redacted] was contacted at his place of employment. [redacted] was advised of the identity of the interviewing Agent and that he was to be interviewed concerning information he had allegedly furnished by written communication dated February 3, 1989, to United States Senator DENNIS DECONCINI. [redacted] stated he is a very "private person" and does not desire to furnish his residence address or home telephone number.

[redacted] stated that based on his best recollection, in August, 1987, he was on business in Washington, D.C., and as is his regular routine, he was staying at the JEFFERSON HOTEL. [redacted] advised this hotel is located somewhere near the Soviet Embassy at approximately 14th Street and N Street although he is not certain of the exact address. [redacted] was accompanied by [redacted] who at that time was an employee of [redacted] but who is now self-employed. On that particular occasion, he and [redacted] had completed dinner and had gone to the bar of the JEFFERSON HOTEL and were within line of sight to an adjacent dining area. [redacted] was aware that there was a party of four or more individuals in the dining area who were loud, boisterous and apparently having a very good time. These individuals were approximately 30 feet away from where [redacted] and [redacted] were seated at the bar. There were beverages in front of this group of people in the dining area and [redacted] cannot recall if the beverages were alcoholic. He does recall that drinks from the bar were being taken to the table as [redacted] was seated near the serving area of the bar and he can only assume that these drinks were being consumed at the table. [redacted] stated that the group was at the table in the dining room when he and [redacted] arrived and were still at the table one and one-half hours later when [redacted] and [redacted] left the bar area.

During the time that he and [redacted] were seated at the bar, [redacted] offered information that one of the people at the table of loud and boisterous individuals was former Senator JOHN TOWER. This [redacted] further offered his opinion that TOWER was a frequent customer who often drank quite heavily while there. [redacted] stated that when told that JOHN TOWER was one of the individuals at the table, he looked in that direction and merely made note of the individuals at the table. He stated that prior to that time he had never met, seen nor would he have recognized JOHN TOWER based on his name. His only recollection of that occasion was the loud, boisterous group and their leaving the impression upon him that the group had been drinking for quite a while based on the noise level. [REDACTED] does not recall what brand or type of drinks were being delivered to the table from the bar area as he had no reason to make such a recollection or notation.

[REDACTED] stated that on the occasions he has stayed at the JEFFERSON HOTEL, there have been [REDACTED]. One is an [REDACTED] male, originally from [REDACTED] and the other is a [REDACTED] to [REDACTED]-year-old [REDACTED]-haired [REDACTED] man.

[REDACTED] stated that on December 12, 1987, he again was at the JEFFERSON HOTEL in Washington, D.C., in the evening and was alone at the bar. He was engaged in conversation with the [REDACTED] basically to practice his [REDACTED] language ability, but aware that there was a group of loud talking customers in the dining room area. This group was approximately 30 feet distance from where he was seated. His observation of the group of individuals determined that there was a lot of drinking going on at the table but he was at that time not aware of who was in the dining party. He does not recall if drinks were being delivered to the table from the bar area.

Approximately 40 to 45 minutes after [REDACTED] arrived at the bar, two Australians and JOHN TOWER came to the bar from the dining area and in particular from the group of people previously mentioned. He stated that he knows they were Australians because they announced that they were and their accents gave every indication they were from Australia. The two Australians in particular muscled their way to the bar, that is, elbowing through other customers who were standing in the immediate area and were accompanied by JOHN TOWER, who did not aggressively force his way to the bar area. The Australians were offensive in their language and the topic of conversation was about the nature and quality of American politics in general and not in a complimentary fashion. [REDACTED] was quick to point out that it was a good natured political discussion of American politics and typical "bar talk" with little content of value.

[REDACTED] stated that TOWER appeared to him to have been drinking and did not appear to be sober. [REDACTED] based this opinion on having seen numerous other people over the years in that same condition. TOWER did order, receive and consume an alcoholic beverage while at the bar but [REDACTED] does not recall what in particular TOWER received and consumed. He can only state that he did order something at the bar and that it was an alcoholic beverage. TOWER was loud and boisterous but was not slurring his words. [REDACTED] stated that he remained at the bar for ten minutes or less after TOWER and the Australians approached the bar area. He stated he finished his own personal drink and left the bar area because the pleasant environment had changed dramatically. He stated that once at the bar and having received their drinks, TOWER and the Australians, while [REDACTED] was there, did not return to their table and were there at the bar when he left the room. He does not recall the identities of anyone else who may have been present during this incident other than the [REDACTED]

On May 16, 1988, [REDACTED] was again at the JEFFERSON HOTEL in Washington, D.C., in the evening and he either was at the bar when JOHN TOWER and an individual from Texas came to the bar or they were already at the bar when [REDACTED] came into the area. In any event, [REDACTED] and TOWER ended up seated side-by-side at the bar and TOWER was accompanied by a heavy set Hispanic male in his mid 40's, who was also from Texas. TOWER and this individual were talking about the politics of the Brownsville and Big Bend, Texas areas and primarily concerning old-time political stories. [REDACTED] introduced himself to JOHN TOWER and the Hispanic whose name he cannot recall. [REDACTED] stated that he remained seated with TOWER and this other Texan for approximately two hours. All three of them individually were ordering and receiving alcoholic beverages but [REDACTED] does not recall what drinks in particular TOWER ordered. [REDACTED] stated his best assumption is that the bartender at the JEFFERSON HOTEL would know what a regular customer drinks and would automatically serve it upon request. [redacted] stated he keeps his own tab at any bar and does not order and pay for drinks for other people nor did he do it on this occasion. He stated that TOWER probably had five drinks during this two-hour time frame, although he kept no running count of what anyone, including he himself, had to drink.

The one impression [redacted] received was that TOWER told jokes that in most circles today would be considered in poor taste. His demeanor was pleasant, "laid back", but his jokes and stories were considered by [redacted] to be distasteful, particularly concerning Hispanics. The type of jokes TOWER was telling were ones that [redacted] is certain TOWER would never consider telling in public or as part of a speech. He could not recall in particular a specific example of one of these jokes except that it left the definite impression of poor taste public conversation.

[redacted] stated it was his judgment that TOWER appeared to be intoxicated. He further explained that TOWER was waving his arms vigorously during conversation, interrupted and overrode conversation, forgot where he was in the middle of conversation and spoke in a confused manner. He could best describe it as a person who had a "buzz" on. That is, his speech became not entirely crisp.

[redacted] stated that it was his opinion during the last two of the above-described incidents, that TOWER was impaired to the point that he should not drive an automobile.

He cannot offer an opinion as to whether or not TOWER's actions were such that he could be compromised. He did state that a drinker has his caution and guard relaxed and is in a risky situation if dealing with important matters. At no time during any of his observations of JOHN TOWER did he overhear or gain any impression that TOWER was discussing sensitive or classified information. His only observation again was that TOWER uses very poor taste in his public conversation topics. He stated he does not know if TOWER can function effectively in a cabinet level position for the United States Government as he has no basis on which to make that evaluation, not knowing the position. He has no recollection nor has he ever received any information of any ungentleman-like conduct by TOWER with women.

[REDACTED] stated the main reason for his writing a letter to his United States Senators was as a result of his hearing a radio report concerning TOWER's appearance before the Senate Confirmation Hearings, in which TOWER stated he did not have a drinking problem and was a man of "some discipline." He stated his immediate thought was -- "Some discipline!!!" -- based on his three previous observations of JOHN TOWER. Had he not heard that statement, it would never have occurred to [REDACTED] that TOWER was a moderate or non-drinker based on TOWER's actions and demeanor as observed by [REDACTED] on the above-described three occasions. He would describe TOWER as being a joke teller and a hard drinker.

[REDACTED] stated that he had no political motivations whatever in writing the letters to his U. S. Senators and again stated that it was only his reaction to the statements made by TOWER during the Senate Confirmation Hearings that caused him to write the letters.

[REDACTED] stated that on no occasion had he observed TOWER to be drunk to the point he could not walk, talk coherently or be responsible for his own actions, other than he should not drive an automobile.

He began his employment at the JEFFERSON HOTEL in [redacted] and works the [redacted] shift, [redacted] and the [redacted] shift on [redacted]. [redacted] stated that he has never seen the appointee visit the hotel dining room during the lunch hour when he has worked. [redacted] advised that he has seen the appointee attend the dining room for dinner and a late evening cocktail. He stated that he could only recall two occasions when the appointee visited the dining room for a late evening cocktail. On one of these occasions, [redacted] recalls that the appointee was joined by [redacted] the [redacted] and [redacted].

[redacted] advised that he has never seen or heard of the appointee being in an intoxicated state. He described the appointee as a very reserved person who never raises his voice. [redacted] stated that other hotel employees perceive the appointee as a "cold and arrogant" individual, and have been known to call him a "little creep". [redacted] has never seen the appointee act in a loud, obnoxious, or boisterous manner.

The appointee's "usual" drink is white wine. [redacted] stated that the appointee normally consumes two glasses of white wine. [redacted] explained that on occasion the appointee has ordered Gibson vodka instead of white wine, although he has not ordered this drink in awhile. He related that the most he ever observed the appointee drink was three Gibson vodkas and white wine with dinner. [redacted] could not recall the date or year of this observation.

T-4 was advised of the nature of the interview and the identity of the interviewing agent. T-4 was further advised of the provisions of the Privacy Act (e) (3). T-4 stated that he/she would like to be kept as confidential as possible as a source of information. If it is necessary, T-4 is agreeable to being identified to President GEORGE BUSH and to members of the Senate Armed Services Committee. T-4 provided the following information.

On T-4's birthday, [] 1988, he/she and companions dined at the SAN SIMEON restaurant in Dallas, Texas. At approximately 10:00 pm, they went to THE CLUB, a night club attached to the restaurant. Soon after they were seated, someone in their group said, "Oh look, there's Senator TOWER." TOWER was seated on a banquette along the wall with a very attractive, slender, [] approximately [] years old. TOWER and his date were obviously not sober. T-4 could not remember if he/she heard TOWER speaking. The lighting in the club was low, and T-4 could not observe if TOWER's eyes were bloodshot. The cocktail waitress, named [] had to pass by T-4's table to serve TOWER and his companion. T-4 estimated that TOWER was served at least two or three times in a time period of approximately one and one half hours. T-4 could not tell what TOWER was drinking. He was not falling down drunk, but he did not appear to have good equilibrium, and was unsteady at times when he walked to and from the dance floor. T-4 characterized TOWER as a happy drunk. He was not belligerent, or loud. TOWER was acting somewhat amorously and suggestively with his date. He sat very close to her, and had his arm around her. T-4 did not observe TOWER do anything blatantly inappropriate, but stated that he/she would have felt embarrassed or irritated with a date that behaved as TOWER did in public.

When leaving the dance floor one time, TOWER's date tripped and fell "sprawled out" right in front of T-4's table. Unfortunately, she had also fallen out of her strapless dress. TOWER looked at her and laughed, and seemed to be matter of fact and casual about the whole thing. TOWER's date stood up, then pulled her dress back up. T-4 could not tell if she did this purposely, but added that she certainly was not trying to hide what had happened.

At some point in the evening, T-4 looked up and noticed that TOWER's date was not with him. TOWER had left his table, and had approached a table of two or three young women in their mid twenties. TOWER seemed to know these women, and sat down and put his arm around [redacted] with long hair. T-4 looked back at the table, and observed TOWER "fondling" the [redacted] buttocks. T-4 stated that the clientele of THE CLUB is well-dressed, and appeared to be the moneyed younger Dallas "society types" with most of the patrons in their thirties. 4 tell FBI Tower seen drunk in '88

By Juan R. Palomo

POST WASHINGTON BUREAU

WASHINGTON — FBI agents Thursday interviewed four people who said they saw an allegedly inebriated John Tower cavorting with several young women at a Dallas nightclub last July.

Three of those interviewed by the FBI are Texans.

One of those interviewed said they told the FBI that Tower, the secretary of defense nominee, remained at the club after his companion left and continued to dance with other women.

"He was doing his stupor-drunk act," said one of those interviewed. "He was slouching and stumbling when he walked from the dance floor — he obviously was not emarrassed."

Another, who spoke on the condition that no names would be used, said the four informants contacted the FBI because they got fed up with defenders of Tower in the Senate and the administration claiming that he as not had a drinking problem since the 1970s.

"What really solidified it this morning was the constant replay of one senator on all the morning newscasts saying that all the information about Tower is all anonymous innuendo and that no one is willing to come forward," that person said. "That's wrong. It's not innuendo. It's fact — I've seen it."

The New York Times quoted a White House official Thursday as saying the administration acknowledges evidence of immoderate or excessive drinking in the 1970s "which appears to have been curbed and brought under control in the '80s" and that allegations corroborated by other witnesses.

Tower himself told the Senate Armed Services Committee during his confirmation hearing that he is "a man of some discipline."

There was no such discipline evident at the Dallas club that night, one of the sources said.

"This man is purporting to have become a saint and he's not," said that person. "I just don't happen to think that he's changed."

The sources said they had no political motives for volunteering their information and one of them said the political affiliation of the four was "about half Republican and half Democrat."

According to two of those interviewed, FBI agents said the information would be forwarded to the Senate Armed Services Committee, which Thursday night voted to recommend rejection of Tower's nomination by the Senate.

The agents also told them others who had volunteered information before had been unwilling to agree to repeat their allegations be willing to tell their story before the panel or President Bush.

They said they would if their identity is protected.

The four described to the FBI a scene at The Club, the disco portion of the San Simeon Restaurant in Dallas on July 8.

They had gone there for dinner and, at about 11 p.m., decided to go to the disco for a drink to celebrate a birthday.

They said Tower and a female companion repeatedly danced. During one of their dances Tower's partner stumbled and almost fell, they said, causing her dress straps to come loose and expose both her breasts.

They told the FBI that after the woman left, Tower, 63, remained behind and "continued to pick up other young women" to dance with.

"He continued to dance and he would put his hands on their behinds," one said.

The four said they left after about 90 minutes and Tower was still dancing

Current Status of "Ill Wind"

Page 17 of the summary memorandum dated February 8, 1989 and page 20 of the summary memorandum dated February 20, 1989, sets forth allegation 5, entitled, "Current status of "ILLWIND.""

As previously reported, interview of the representative of a Defense Contractor was delayed due to ongoing plea negotiations with the United States Attorney's Office, Eastern District of Virginia. On February 22, 1989, these negotiations were finalized and the representative of the Defense Contractor was interviewed. He furnished the following information.

During the early 1980's, the Defense Contractor was seeking to obtain congressional support for a particular Defense program. One of the Defense Contractor's Defense Consultants contacted the representative of the Defense Contractor and advised that [redacted] was an individual who could help. Accordingly, the representative of the Defense Contractor agreed to pay the Defense Consultant who in turn would pay [redacted] for [redacted] efforts. The representative of the Defense Contractor did not know the financial arrangements nor how much was to be paid to [redacted] and he was unaware of a personal loan from the Defense Consultant to the former staff member. b6 b7C

The Defense Consultant arranged a meeting for the representative of the Defense Contractor with [redacted] at the Defense Consultant's apartment. [redacted] said he would approach Senator Tower's staff to see what could be done. It was understood by the representative of the Defense Contractor that if the Defense Contractor arranged campaign contributions to Senator Tower, it would be helpful in obtaining support for the particular Defense program. The representative of the Defense Contractor committed between $10,000 to $20,000 in contributions disguised in the names of other consultants and their families. The contributions were forwarded to [redacted] at the Defense Consultant's apartment.

During the time period 1981 through 1983, the Defense Consultant arranged a series of additional meetings between the representative of the Defense Contractor and [redacted] in order to explain the particular Defense program to [redacted] so he could present it to Senator Tower's staff.

John Goodwin Tower

Periodically, [redacted] would report back b6 that Senator Tower's staff would support the program. The b7C representative of the Defense Contractor told the Defense Consultant that he wanted to ensure that [redacted] was being "taken care of." The Defense Consultant reported back that [redacted] was being "taken care of."

Regarding the specific allegation that the Defense Consultant had claimed to have paid $20,000 to Senator Tower and was unhappy about having not been reimbursed by the Defense Contractor, the representative for the Defense Contractor stated that although unaware of this specific comment, he knew that the Defense Consultant was always trying to get money from the Defense Contractor and that telling this to the "Illwind" subject who reported it was probably a misleading effort by the Defense Consultant to get paid more quickly.

The representative of the Defense Contractor did not believe that the Defense Consultant was making any direct payments to Senator Tower. He did not know if [redacted] was paying Senator Tower and had no information about it.

The FBI has, as yet, been unable to corroborate the details furnished by the representative of the Defense Contractor.
As he continues his lengthy debriefing, in accordance with his plea agreement, it is not known what, if any, additional information pertaining to Senator Tower he will furnish.

It is also noted that some pertinent "Illwind" subjects decline to be interviewed concerning Senator Tower, and it is unknown what information they might provide at a future date should they be subjected to criminal prosecution.

To date, however, no credible evidence has been developed that Senator Tower personally participated in, or was aware of these transactions.

JOHN GOODWIN TOWER

The information in this summary memorandum supplements the information contained in summary memoranda dated December 13 and 23, 1988, January 6, 13, and 25, 1989, and February 8 and 20, 1989. An additional interview remains outstanding.

Interviews

As reported on page 63 of the summary memorandum dated February 20, 1989, and entitled "Allegation that in 1983 executives of United Technologies Corporation (UTC) were contacted and requested to make personal contributions to Senator Tower's campaign fund." [redacted] alleged that [redacted] contacted him and requested that he make a personal contribution to Senator Tower's re-election campaign. b6 b7C

On February 13, 1989, [redacted] attorney for [redacted] was contacted to arrange an interview of [redacted] regarding this issue. [redacted] stated that he would advise [redacted] not to talk to the FBI unless assurances were given that [redacted] had no criminal involvement. [redacted] also suggested that [redacted] be granted immunity. [redacted] was subsequently advised that his client would not be given that assurance or be granted immunity and he declined to make his client available for FBI interview.

Pursuant to Part E of the summary memorandum dated February 20, 1989 and entitled "QUESTIONABLE ACTIVITIES ON THE PART OF SENATOR TOWER WHILE IN GENEVA, SWITZERLAND," the reinterview of former United States Air Force [redacted] [redacted] is incorporated herein.

No connection found between Senator JOHN GOODWIN TOWER and E-SYSTEMS.

161A HQ-20403

Details:

The purpose of this report is to confirm information previously provided to FBIHQ telephonically.

On 2/13/89 Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) [redacted] Government Fraud Unit (GFU), Criminal Investigative Division telephonically contacted Tampa requesting information relative to Senator JOHN TOWER and his relationship with E-SYSTEMS, the subject of Tampa file 206A-180. SSA [redacted] advised that White Collar Crime Section Chief [redacted] was contacted by Department of Justice (DOJ) Fraud Section Chief WILLIAM HENDRICKS inquiring as to the nature and extent of information, HENDRICKS was told by DOJ Attorney [redacted] Tampa had developed.

On 2/13/89 a review of TP 206A-180 was conducted which failed to disclose any information relative to Senator TOWER and case agent orally confirmed that no information relative to Senator TOWER has been developed. Tampa case agent went on to explain he had a telephone conversation with [redacted] on 2/10/89 where he broadly explained the E-SYSTEMS investigation to [redacted] as she was recently designated as the Defense Procurement Fraud Unit (DPFU), DOJ attorney to the E-SYSTEMS case. During the conversation [redacted] asked Tampa case agent as to the connection between Senator TOWER and E-SYSTEMS. Tampa case agent advised that there was none to his knowledge to which [redacted] replied that [redacted] CECOM, (JAG), a Special Assistant United States Attorney in the E-SYSTEMS case, stated there was a connection. Tampa case agent reiterated he was unaware of any connection and told [redacted] to pursue her interest through [redacted] if he was the one who said there was a connection.

On 2/13/89 Tampa telephonically contacted [redacted] who advised E-SYSTEMS is headquartered in Dallas, Texas and TOWER was both a Senator for Texas and on the Senate Armed Services Committee. It was [redacted] understanding that E-SYSTEMS [redacted] as a corporate leader in Texas, had a long standing professional relationship with Senator TOWER who is a political leader in Texas. [redacted] went on to explain that whenever CECOM attempted to take administrative sanctions against E-SYSTEMS or let bidding on the VCR 12 radio contract either the Senate Armed Services Committee or Staff Assistants to Senator TOWER would ask questions of CECOM as to the contemplated actions. The questions were within the realm of authority and responsibility of the entities asking the questions. [] stated he relayed this same information to [] who asked for any documentation. [] said he did locate three memorandums (consisting of seven pages) that related to questions asked by Senator TOWER staffers and the Senate Armed Services Committee relative to E-SYSTEMS. There was no indication that Senator TOWER was personally involved or that the issues raised were improper. At Tampa's request, the three memorandums were facsimiled by [] to the GFU, Criminal Investigative Division.

[redacted] was contacted at the Mark Hopkins Inter-Continental Hotel, No. 1 Nob Hill. Upon being advised of the nature of the inquiry and the identity of the interviewing agent, [redacted] provided the following information:

[redacted] advised he has written about JOHN TOWER's "lack of discretion" and TOWER's "private behavior" as being "fair game for judging a public servant." [redacted] stated he has based his opinions on rumors he has heard about TOWER's personal relationships with women on TOWER's entourage and on his own observation of TOWER's conduct while on business.

[redacted] explained his comments by saying that he observed TOWER on one occasion displaying behavior which was inappropriate for someone in his (TOWER) position. [redacted] said that in February, 1986 or 1987, he attended a meeting in Munich, Germany. [redacted] said TOWER arrived with [redacted] (ph), a member of TOWER's delegation. According to [redacted] TOWER and [redacted] were very friendly with each other and that TOWER would occasionally place his arm around her.

[redacted] stated that he has not observed TOWER consuming any alcoholic beverages; but, felt that TOWER's affections toward [redacted] at the time were inappropriate for that particular setting. [redacted] further stated that he has heard rumors about TOWER's prior romance with [redacted]

[redacted] said that TOWER's actions "did not sit well with the members of his (TOWER) delegation." Among those present at the Munich meeting were [redacted] to [redacted] former [redacted] Senator COHEN (Maine), and [redacted] a Washington, D.C./New York businessman.

In conclusion, [redacted] stated he did not know of anyone who has observed TOWER drink excessively. He has "heard through the rumor mill" about TOWER's partying but could provide no specifics.
